“ to Bridget's loved ones and friends I remember her as a spunky young lady that knew what she wanted and worked to get it. I worked with Rose Mary at Wesley School for a number of years and always respected and admired her. The loss of a loved one is one of the hardest things to deal with. I will always remember Bridget's spirit and her jest for life and the love of her mom and friends and family--that is a great legacy.

Remembering my cousin Bridget. Here infectious smile, her love of dancing and how catching my bridal bouquet seemed to mean more than anything in the world to her that day.
