

Robert Siemiaszko aka Bob Simms

March 3, 1944 - May 18, 2015

Robert Siemiaskzo (Bob Simms), passed from this world on Monday evening, May 18. He was a devoted husband to his wife, Linda; a loving father to son, Jeremiah (Christina), a tender caretaker for his Aunt Irene; a wonderful brother to his sisters, Judy (Tom), and Patti, and brother, Hal (Diana); the cherished grandfather to his grandson Quentin, and granddaughter Cara; and a marvelous uncle to his nieces and nephews and their children. Bob was a dearest friend within his Baha'i community here in this area, and around the world, and a deep friend to all those whose lives he touched.

With his guitar, his voice, his music, and his recordings, Bob shared his heart-formed music from his home and studio in Scottville, and this music is now enjoyed all over the world. His message and his living, consisted of loving all of mankind. And that life theme was reflected and amplified within his love of the Baha'i Faith.

Bob was not only a teacher and music therapist for area children and adults, but within his recording studio, countless musicians and artists had their hopes and dreams unfold.

Bob will be welcomed into the next world of Light, by his parents, John and Helen Siemiaskzo, and throngs of loving family and friends.

Our hearts are comforted knowing Bob will forever be making music in all the worlds of God, and that his musical gifts will forever be treasured here. His presence will be deeply missed by all.
